

Training Services

- Basic Obedience:

Basic obedience is where your relationship with your dog begins. Dogs need guidance and leadership. I do not teach your dog the basics, I know I can do that. I am in the training humans business, I train YOU how to teach your dog to heel, come, off, engage and more. These basics are also vital for the safety, happiness and well being of your dog.

There are two options for this package. I Offer in-home and in facility training. What is the difference?

In-home: Behavioral struggles start in the home, which makes sense right? It is where they spend most of their time. Training in your home your dog is learning in its main environment, with the same distraction, same scents, same people.

In Facility: You come to me. We will work in a new environment and start neutral, and then bring in distractions. I will teach you commands, guide and help you take what you learn here and how to apply it at home.

- Basic Obedience Intermediate:

We take everything you have learned in basic training, or if your dog already knows basic obedience, we will take it to the next level and start working with your dog off leash. Giving the dog the freedom to be off leash changes their quality of life and you the confidence to give your dog that freedom. Giving them that independence strengthens your relationship and makes both of you happy. However safety comes first. If your dog is off leash, you need to be able to recall your dog right away.

- Behavior Modification/ Obedience:

Is your dog reactive on the leash? Barking at dogs and people? Lunging and pulling? Nervous around people/other dogs? Barking when everyone walks by your house? This is something we can work on. We can not train out genetics but we can train behavior. Does Behavior modification mean your dog will love other dogs and people? No, not always. We as people do not love everyone. But we will teach your dog to trust you, and make walks and time together more enjoyable for your dog when they are not in fight or flight mode. It is hard for you to walk your dog but it is hard on the dog to be in that state of mind. So let's help build your relationship and work on those behaviors.

- Puppy Group Class

Let's start off on the right foot. Did you just get a puppy? Training after your dog has already developed bad habits will be harder for them to break.

When we start off with the right knowledge to train your dog, the stronger a relationship you will have when applying these methods. This class will be distracting for a puppy, it is imperative that you understand that and it is so important to take this training and do it in your home.
